

MONOPOLY[®] Game Tournament FAQ

When are the national and world MONOPOLY[®] Game Championships scheduled for?

Hasbro Games is currently working on plans for a 2003 National MONOPOLY[®] Game Championship. Details for this event will be posted on www.Monopoly.com in the coming months. Details on a World Championship event will be available in 2003.

How does one qualify for the 2003 National MONOPOLY[®] Game Championship?

The 2003 National MONOPOLY[®] Game Championship will be open for anyone to enter. This means that anyone will be able to register to compete in this event and that past tournament wins will not determine eligibility. There will be a fee to compete – the fee will be announced, when details are confirmed.

What other MONOPOLY[®] Game Tournaments are being held in my state / region? If there is another one planned, does that mean I can't hold mine?

We are working on a system where all MONOPOLY[®] Game Tournaments, with permission from the individual tournament committees, will be posted on www.Monopoly.com. That way, tournament committees can check to see if there are other tournaments hosted in their area and even speak to other tournaments from around the country to get planning ideas and advice.

We do not grant exclusive rights to any organization to host MONOPOLY[®] Game Tournaments. That said, it is likely that two or more organizations located in one state or region may host MONOPOLY[®] Game Tournaments in the same year. Our recommendation is that when planning your event, you select a date far enough away from already scheduled events, target different groups (i.e. students versus business professionals), and add different elements to your event (i.e. a dinner or silent auction).

What does registering our tournament do for our group?

By registering your event, Hasbro, Inc. supports your event with guidelines for your publicity materials and in most instances complimentary MONOPOLY[®] board games to use for your event, as well as a selection of board games for prizes. If you elect not to register your event and publicize it without our permission, there may be legal ramifications.

How many games will I receive? Will I get games each year?

Typically, we provide one MONOPOLY[®] board game for every five or six players you have indicated on your registration form. Note that prize quantities will vary based on stock.

Per our corporate giving policy, if we have made a donation to the same organization two years in a row, we then follow with a two-year hiatus. That said, we recommend that you hold onto your games and use them in those years when we are unable to make a donation.

How much time should we set aside to plan our event?

If this is your first tournament, it is recommended, based on the size of your event, a good six months of pre-planning. This will give you time to get all approvals and plan your event.
