

"It's All In The Family"

Archie Bunker's Card Game

Fun For 2 to 4 Players

Directions

1. The pack of 42 cards is made up of four different kinds, called "Suits": 10 with Edith, Archie's wife's picture — 10 with Gloria, the daughter — 10 with Mike (Meathead), his son-in-law — 10 with Archie himself, and 2 DING BAT cards.
2. The Suit cards are numbered from 1 to 10; 1 is the lowest and 10 is the highest.
3. "Boss" cards have a special privilege which allows them to win over any other "Suit".
4. The "Suit" with Archie's picture and the two DING BAT cards are always "Bosses".
5. The Zero "0" DING BAT card is the lowest Boss and the "11" DING BAT card is the highest Boss card.

Starting the Game

1. Each player is given a DING BAT Tally. The ARROW on it should be set at "0" at the beginning of the game.
2. Players cut the cards for dealer of the first round. High cut deals first, others follow in turn to the left.
3. The cards are shuffled and SEVEN (7) are dealt face down, one at a time, to each player, and the remaining cards are put aside.
4. Each player picks up his cards, arranges them in Suits, putting all the same pictures together. He then guesses how many Tricks he thinks his hand will take.
5. A Trick consists of a card led by one player and the cards played in that turn by each of the other players.
6. Each player secretly turns the dial on his Tally until the number he expects to take shows in the opening above "TRICKS". After he has done this, he puts his Tally face down on the table. When the last player places his Tally face down, they all turn them face up and each TELLS how many Tricks he expects to take.

THE OBJECT OF THE GAME is to score points by taking EXACTLY as many Tricks as each player has dialed on his Tally: NO MORE, NO LESS!

Playing The Game

1. The dealer plays first, unless one or more players have dialed a number higher than his. Then the player nearest to the left of the dealer with the highest number plays first.
2. He leads, by playing a card of any suit from his hand face up on the table. (This includes the Boss suit and DING BAT cards.) All others follow in turn, PLAYING A CARD OF THE SAME SUIT if they can. Figs. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 are examples of the different kinds of Tricks.
3. The highest card played of the suit led, wins the Trick (Fig. 1) unless it is Trumped with an Archie Card (Figs. 2 and 3) or DING BAT card (Fig. 4).

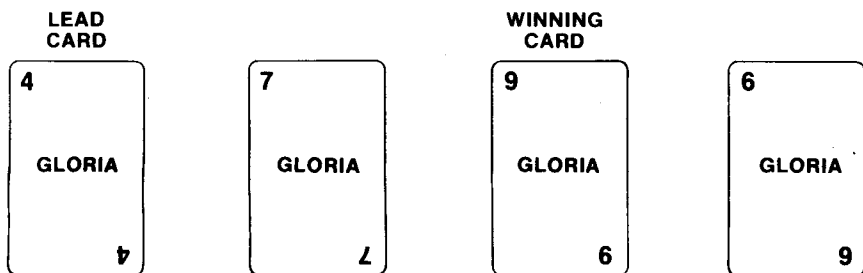

Fig. 1. The person who played the "9 GLORIA" card takes (and keeps) this trick.

Fig. 2. The person who played the "2 ARCHIE" card takes (and keeps) this trick.

Fig. 3. The person who played the "5 ARCHIE" card takes (and keeps) this trick.

4. A Boss or either DING BAT card can be played on a lead of another Suit, ONLY if the player has NO CARDS of the Suit led in his hand. Players may, however, play a card of any other Suit instead of a Boss (a discard) if it is to their advantage (Fig. 2.)

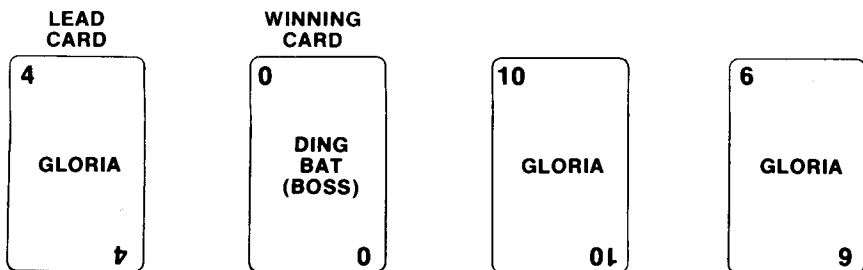

Fig. 4. The person who played the "0 DING BAT" card takes this trick. He may keep it or give it to any opponent who must keep it. See Rule 8.

5. If more than one Boss card is played on a trick, the highest Boss wins (Fig. 3). Any Archie card is higher than the "0" DING BAT card (Fig. 5) and the "11" DING BAT card is higher than any Archie card (Fig. 6).

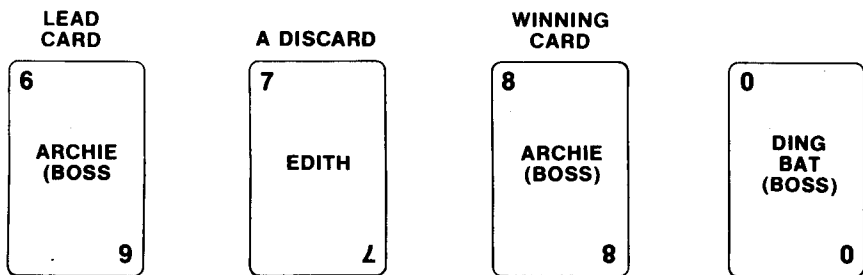

Fig. 5. The person who played the "8 ARCHIE" card takes this trick. He may keep it or give to any opponent who must keep it. See Rule 8.

Fig. 6. The person who played the "11 DING BAT" card takes this trick. He may keep it or give to any opponent who must keep it. See Rule 8.

6. When a DING BAT card is led, players must play a Boss card, the other DING BAT card, or discard if they have neither Boss nor a Ding Bat card in their hand. (Fig. 6).

7. When a player wins a trick, he places it in front of him, face down keeping each trick separate so that all can see how many tricks he has. That player then leads a card of his choice from his hand to start the next trick.

8. DING BAT: The "0" and the "11" DING BAT cards are used in an extraordinary way. When a Player wins a trick which contains a DING BAT* card, HE MAY KEEP THAT TRICK if he needs it or . . . GIVE IT AWAY TO ANY OPPONENT hoping to spoil that opponent's chances to score. (Figs. 4, 5, and 6). THIS MUST BE DONE IMMEDIATELY, before the Player leads a card from his hand for the next trick.

*Note: The trick may contain either or both DING BAT cards.

9. After a round of 7 cards has been played, each player counts the tricks he has taken. When the number taken matches exactly with the number of "Tricks" dialed on his Tally, he scores 10 points and advances the Arrow on the Tally 10 points.

10. When a player has taken more or fewer tricks than he has dialed, he does not score. For example, if a player dialed 3 and took 4 or more tricks, or only 1 or 2, he does not move the arrow in that round.

11. After each round, the player to the left of the last dealer shuffles the pack and deals. The game continues until one player scores 100 points, WINNING THE GAME.

Note: If more than one player scores 100 points at the end of a round (a tie), the game continues until one player wins with a higher score.

All in the Family

QUESTION BOOK
WITH
ARCHIE OR EDITH

TO KEEP THE AUTHENTICITY OF THE THEME AND CHARACTERS OF THE TELEVISION SHOW, "ALL IN THE FAMILY," CERTAIN LIBERTIES, IN GOOD FUN, HAVE BEEN TAKEN WITH SPEECH, SPELLING AND SUBJECT MATTER.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF HOW THE GAME IS PLAYED

The game is played with 3 to 5 players, with one of the players acting as M.C. The M.C. reads 5 questions aloud from the question book to the other players. The questions are not for factual answers, but rather request statements of opinion. There are no "right" or "wrong" answers.

When the players have finished writing opinions to the questions, the M.C. collects their papers. He reads the various opinions to each question and the players try to pick an opinion, (not their own) and match it to an opponent. After all the players have recorded their choices, the M.C. asks players to read their matches. Correct matches score points and incorrect ones are marked wrong. At the end of five questions the player with the most points is the winner.

ARCHIE PLAYS ALONG

Archie's answers are printed in the book after each question. The M.C. writes "Archie's" reply in his reply book so players may try to guess which opinion Archie gave. Some games feature Edith's opinions.

THE OBJECT OF THE GAME:

Is to score points by matching an opponent's or Archie's opinion to questions.

TO SET UP THE GAME:

1. Each player takes a reply folder and two "reply-score" sheets. Players will also need a pen or pencil.
2. Each player inserts one "reply-score" sheet, reply side up, in his folder as shown in diagram #1 on the next page.
3. The second "reply-score" sheet is placed on the table in front of each player, score side up, but is not used in the beginning of the game. A sample score sheet is shown in diagram #2.
4. One player is chosen to act as Master of Ceremonies (M.C.) and takes the question book, a reply folder, one "reply-score" sheet and a pencil (or pen).
5. The M.C. and the other players place the "reply-score" sheet in the reply folder.
6. Players space themselves at a table so their written replies cannot be seen by opponents.

RULES

1. The M.C. turns to a game in the question book and announces the number of the game they are to play. The players write this number and their name on their reply sheet.
2. The M.C. reads aloud question #1 of the game. He repeats the question, so that all players understand its meaning and have time to write a reply.
3. The M.C. writes Archie's printed answer on his reply sheet. If the game being played is marked "Edith," the M.C. announces this and writes on his reply sheet the printed Edith answers.
4. Questions are read in order, until all 5 questions of a game have been given.
5. The reply folders are collected by the M.C., who shuffles and piles them in front of him before reading each question.
6. The M.C. again reads question #1. Then, he picks up the reply folders, one by one, and reads aloud the replies on line #1 of each sheet including his own sheet with Archie's or Edith's answers.
7. Without any discussion each player, except the M.C., selects ONE of the replies given, NOT HIS OWN and tries to guess the opponent or Archie (or Edith) that gave this certain reply. Each player writes on his score sheet on line #1 the reply he has chosen and the opponent he believes gave that reply.
8. The M.C. does the same with replies 2 thru 5, but since he knows the identity of each, he does not participate in answers.

9. To correct the players' replies, the M.C. reads aloud the replies to each question in order. This time, however, he identifies the player who wrote each reply. Note — at this second reading, players may admit themselves to their answers.
10. If a player on his answer sheet correctly matched a reply with a player, or a reply with Archie, he scores one point in the Point Column on his sheet.
11. When all 5 questions and answers have been played, each player totals the points on his game sheet. The player with the highest score is the winner of the game.

PLAYING THE M.C. GAME

This game is played in the same manner as above except the M.C. writes HIS OWN replies instead of copying Archie's or Edith's. Players may try to match the M.C.'s reply or an opponent's.

THE SILENT M.C. GAME

The game is played in the same manner as above except the M.C. does not participate with either Archie's answers or his own. Players try only to match an opponent's reply.

NOTE:

Questions can be used over and over as players can always think up different answers. Also, original questions can be asked.
